

Amplitude vs. Longitude

- Color coding represents time of observation
- The amplitude of longitudinal variations is strongest when the peak of S II (valley of S IV) is near  $\lambda_{\text{III}}=200^\circ$
- This may explain why ground-based observations of S II see strong variations centered about  $\lambda_{\text{III}}=200^\circ$